

Debt Recovery

Claims over £10,000:

In cases where the claim is for a sum over £10,000, different rules apply with regard to the payment of legal costs. Generally speaking, the losing party pays the majority of the winning party's costs.

As all defended matters are different, detailed advice is always provided as to the prospects of recovery of the debt and the costs to be incurred in pursuing it. Depending on the value and nature of the case, defended matters are dealt with by different grades of lawyer within our Dispute Resolution Department.

As the Debt Recovery Department is based within the Dispute Resolution Department, the transfer of cases is smooth, and cases are progressed swiftly. The lawyer taking over the defended matter will provide you with a cost estimate and an indication of your claim's prospects of success as soon as he/she takes it on.

Our specialist Dispute Resolution Department has many years' experience in dealing with such matters.
